SILBURY COINS

Autumn 2026

Newsletter

Welcome to a very busy Autumn here at Silbury, with multiple collections available exclusively on our website, we have more coins available than ever before!

The extraordinary London collection part two is sure to delight if Ancient British coins are your thing, if not then do not fear, all categories are being added to this month. Be sure to check out our specialist auction ending on 15th October, rare Ancient British coins, several of which are the only examples of their type available outside of museum collections.

As the temperatures drop and firewood is piled high we wish you an enjoyable autumn and as always, do get in touch with any questions.

The Silbury Team

The Silbury Spotlight: Online Auction

A small number of very special coins from The London Collection are currently offered by online auction, bidding ends at 3pm (BST) on the 15th October 2026.

Full details of the auction lots and how to place bids can be found here

To read more about the London Collection please click here

The London Collection - Part 2

We are excited to announce that part two fixed price listings are now available, exclusively on our website.

One of the finest across-the-board collections of Ancient British coinage ever formed. A remarkable opportunity to secure pieces from this historic collection.

To view the fixed price listings click here

View our current Premium Listings ➜

AUTUMN 2026 • NEWSLETTER

Gun Money

We have just launched a wide selection from The Charles Edward Noble Collection of Irish Emergency Gunmoney, struck during AD 1689-1691.

Irish Gunmoney was a temporary, base-metal emergency coinage issued in Ireland between 1689 and 1691 by King James II during the Williamite War. It was created due to a lack of silver and gold, James II needed more than £100,000 per month to fund his military campaign in Ireland against William of Orange. The coins were cast from a mix of brass and copper obtained from melted-down old cannons, church bells, and scrap metal. Each piece was marked with the month of issue and were intended to be redeemed for real silver once James II regained the throne (though redemption never happened in full).

To view the coins click here

Ancient Coins

from the collection of a West Country gentleman

Over the summer we have been busy cataloguing a large collection of ancient coins, formed by an avid collector over several decades. Gold coins from the late Roman & Byzantine era are now live, the bronze and silver coinage will appear online over the next few months.

Listings can be found on our Imperial and Byzantine pages

Keep in touch

www.silburycoins.com

info@silburycoins.com

Copyright (C) 2026 Silbury Coins
All rights reserved